Enamel artists

Copper enamelling - essentially, the melting of glass enamel grains onto a copper surface is one of the amazing classes offered here at Riverhouse. Some of our talented students will be selling some of their beautiful pieces so get in early to bag an original piece of art (pieces will include wall art and jewellery)

FairPlay Clothing - Handmade children's clothes with a conscience

Carrie aims to offer fun comfortable handmade childrens' clothes with a conscience. She uses fair trade fabrics, locally bought fabric and haberdashery, recycled fabric and loves to upcycle clothes to give them a longer life and keep them out of the landfill. The nature of using donated and recycled fabric as well as upcycling clothes, means most FairPlay pieces are one of a kind, making them perfect for your little one-of-a-kind. fairplayclothing.co.uk

VintageBarbaraToo

Barbara Lindsay will be selling Vintage and handmade jewellery and handmade jewellery/gift pouches. Vintage jewellery (mostly 1950s and 1960s) and Barbara's own handmade jewellery made from semi-precious stones, modern glass and vintage beads will feature along with handmade jewellery pouches - most made from Liberty Tana lawn and scraps from vintage clothes - leftovers from my sewing over the years.

Walton Woodcraft Folk

Walton Woodcraft Folk, established in 1972, is part of the national Woodcraft Folk children's charity. The name refers to the skill of living close to nature - they don't make a habit of hugging trees though occasionally they have been known to craft things out of wild wood and we do encourage all our members to attend camping trips. At the fair WWF will help children make models and pictures from recycled materials. Our groups meet on Monday evenings during term time at Walton Oak School.
